

JFK Calls for Free Trading With Europe

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy appealed today for prompt bipartisan endorsement of his five-year plan to dismantle the tariff barriers to a free trading, trillion-dollar economic partnership with Europe.

"We will prove to the world that we believe in peacefully tearing down walls instead of arbitrarily building them," the President told Congress.

Repeating requests made in his State of the Union Message two weeks ago, he asked authority to negotiate tariff cuts of up to 60 per cent on some groups of products and complete elimination of tariffs on other items.

His special message on trade was studied with assurances that the "trade expansion act of 1962," as he titled it, would benefit workers, businessmen and consumers. It would preserve existing safeguards for domestic industry, he promised.

But the government should stand ready to aid farm and factory workers and companies temporarily hurt, Kennedy went on. He proposed those as "effective and relatively inexpensive" measures, without giving a cost estimate.

For workers left idle—financial help for job retraining and relocation, along with federal "readjustment allowances" for up to a full year at 65 per cent of average weekly pay, plus an additional 12 weeks for those over 60. Unemployment compensation, when received, would be deducted.

For business firms and farmers—federal loans and loan guarantees, technical guidance and unspecified "tax benefits" to help companies modernize plants and diversify products.

The 5,000-word message spelled out many provisions of the sweeping proposal to negotiate reciprocal tariff cuts and, in some cases, to eliminate entirely tariff walls between this country and the European Common Market.

But it contained more persuasion than detail. The specifics were in an administration draft bill sent Wednesday to the House Ways and Means Committee to replace the trade agreements act expiring next June 30.

The committee was to make public the draft today. Well aware the bill will be attacked by protectionist groups, Kennedy urged Congress to override sectional, party and "bloc" interests and to preserve the bipartisan support for a liberal trade policy which has lasted for two decades.

"(The act) is designed as the expression of a nation, not of any single faction or section," he said. "It is in that spirit that I recommend it to the Congress for prompt and favorable action."

Voids New Ruling to Two Farmers

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis has held that two Jackson County farmers are not entitled to a review of a ruling that they violated conservation reserve contracts.

The decision upheld a federal ruling by District Judge J. Henley Smith Oct. 19, 1960, that the cases of R. G. Holden and W. E. Conner of Newport could not be reviewed in the courts because their contracts with the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee had not been terminated.

Henley said review is limited to cases in which the state ASC committee finds a violation that justifies cancellation of the contract. Holden and Conner, the latter as trustee for the G. D. Clements estate, signed agreements in 1957 to maintain certain practices on their land and the government, through the ASC, agreed to share in the cost of the practices.

The state ASC ruled in June, 1959, that the contracts had been violated and nullified cost-share payments of $1,430 to Holden and $6,731 to Conner. The ASC did not, however, terminate the contracts.

Films Prove Red Pilot Was Spying

ACQUAVIVA, Italy (AP)—Aerial maps of southern Italy were found aboard the Bulgarian MIG17 jet that crash-landed near a new missile base Saturday, an Italian air force source reported today.

The source described the maps as "rather inaccurate" and said: "It is pretty obvious that the pilot was ordered to fly here to check the exact positions of several North Atlantic Treaty Organization missile bases scattered in this region."

The pilot, Lt. Miluse Solakov, 22, crashed in an olive grove near this south Italian town six miles from the new missile base at Gioia del Colle. The Italian Defense ministry said Monday there were indications that Solakov was on an aerial spying mission, but the investigation since has been shrouded in secrecy.

The pilot is recovering at a local hospital from injuries received in the crash. It is expected he will be moved soon to a military hospital for extended questioning.

Manager Resigns

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP)—Camden City Manager Add Ellyson has resigned, effective March 1, Ellyson, who came to Camden in October of 1960, said he will take a similar post in another city, which he did not name.

Gins Scheduled to Close February 5

Farmers who need longer than Feb. 5 to gin their cotton should contact their ginner. The deadline for closing gins in Arkansas is Feb. 5, advises the County Agent Calvin Caldwell.

Gimmers may get an extension for the time of closing their gins by making an application to the Arkansas State Plant Board in Little Rock. These applications should be forwarded to the plant board as soon as possible and should state the amount of time that gimmers think will be needed in order to gin all the cotton in the area.

The source described the maps as "rather inaccurate" and said: "It is pretty obvious that the pilot was ordered to fly here to check the exact positions of several North Atlantic Treaty Organization missile bases scattered in this region."

Mrs. Bader Heads March of Mothers

Mrs. Steve Bader has been named chairman of the 1962 Mothers' March for Hempstead County in the continuing fight against birth defects, arthritis and polio.

Mrs. Bader is a member of the First Methodist Church and has been very active in church work, especially with young people, for several years. She is a past PTA president, still active in school activities, she recently organized a girl scout troop from Paisley School.

Being the mother of two daughters, Mrs. Bader realizes the great importance of the MOTHERS' MARCH, as she said. "We in the campaign are sure county residents will respond when the Marching Mothers call at their door on Jan. 20."

National Committeeman Winthrop Rockefeller and W. Harold Sadler of Little Rock, co-chairman of the dinner, announced Wednesday that members of the state GOP would attempt to sell 2,000 tickets to the event, which will feature Sen. John W. Tower of Texas as principal speaker.

Tower, a Republican, was elected last year to the Senate seat formerly held by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Rockefeller and Sadler said they had ticket sales committees at work in all of the state's 75 counties.

JFK Fights for Agency With Negro as Head

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy says that if his proposal for establishment of a new urban affairs department goes through he'll name a Negro to his Cabinet to head the agency.

The President told a news conference Wednesday the Cabinet post would go to Robert C. Weaver, a Negro who now heads the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Kennedy said he would continue to push for establishment of the urban affairs department despite a rebuff by the House Rules Committee. It voted 9 to 6 Wednesday to block the proposal.

Under questioning during his liveliest news conference in months, Kennedy was:

Critical of the House Republican leadership.

Irrked by a woman reporter's question.

Philosophic about the Senate investigation of Pentagon speech censoring.

About the outcome of inter-American meeting in Uruguay.

Hopeful that: His tariff cutting proposals will escape a partisan fight on Capitol Hill. His medical care plan under Social Security will come up for a congressional headcount this year. NATO will increase its conventional military strength. India and Pakistan will settle their Kashmir dispute. The United States and Portugal can work out a renewal of the U.S. lease on its Azores Air Base.

Kennedy also was unconventional in identifying Weaver as the man he intends to appoint as head of a department that doesn't yet exist. Weaver would be the first Negro to serve in a Cabinet. His race is one of the controversial factors in a congressional dispute over Kennedy's plan for the new department.

Kennedy was critical — "somewhat astonished" — of the House Republican leadership for opposing the plan. All five Republicans in the Rules Committee voted against it, with four Democrats.

The President said he would challenge Congress again by proposing the department by the reorganization process. That way, it would be authorized within 60 days unless either House or Senate took the initiative to reject it by majority vote.

"We are going to send it up right away," Kennedy said.

Ouachita Admits First Negroes

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP)—Ouachita Baptist College enrolled its first Negro students today.

They are Michael Makosholo, 40, and his 32-year-old wife, Mary. Both have been teaching in the Southern Baptist Mission at Gatooma in Southern Rhodesia for the past seven years.

Dr. Ralph Phelps, president of the college, said that the two were admitted in keeping with a policy adopted by the Ouachita board of trustees in April, 1960.

Phelps said that Makosholo plans to work toward a bachelor's degree and his wife has enrolled as a special student.

Mrs. K. G. McRae, 89, Dies Wednesday in Hospital Here

Annual C of C Banquet Set for Feb. 12

The top spokesman for Arkansas business and industry, Kenneth Pat Wilson, will address the annual membership meeting and banquet of Hope Chamber of Commerce at 7 p.m. Feb. 12 at the Barlow Hotel.

Mr. Wilson is president of the Jacksonville State Bank and newly elected president of the Arkansas State C of C.

At 42, Mr. Wilson is the youngest president to head the state's largest business organization that represents more than 2,000 business and industrial firms, city C of C and individual leaders in business, industrial and professional fields.

Additional features of the anniversary meeting of the Hope C of C will be the presentation of the six point preparedness plaque by a spokesman of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission for having completed the 6-point program.

The local Chamber will also be presented the "Aluminum Blueprint for Progress Sign" by the Arkansas State C of C for having completed during 1961 the planned progress for Arkansas.

Individual service awards for retiring members of the local board will also be presented during the evening's activities.

Tickets for the annual affair will go on sale within the next few days and as the program shapes up additional announcements will be made.

What President Asked of Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—In today's trade message to Congress, President Kennedy—

1. Asked authority to sweep aside certain tariffs, scale down others drastically.

2. Urged Congress to forget sectional, party in giving bipartisan support to trillion-dollar partnership with Europe.

3. Said government stands ready to aid farm and factory workers, businessmen hurt by trade program.

4. Stressed need for urgent action to meet challenges of Common Market and Communists' economic drive.

Sheriffs Will Fight to Get Pay Increase

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Sheriffs Association will elect officers and stage a pistol shoot today to wind up a three day annual convention here.

The group voted Wednesday to push for adoption of proposed constitutional Amendment 52 in the November general election and to take steps toward installation of a teletype network in sheriffs' offices over the state.

Both actions were expected. Amendment 52 would permit pay increases for all state and county officials, including sheriffs. Maximum pay for county offices now is $6,000. Now scales would range up to $9,500 in larger counties.

A similar amendment proposal was defeated in 1960.

The teletype network has been discussed for six months. The group voted to proceed with installation in selected cities, including Little Rock, Hot Springs, Texarkana, El Dorado, Pine Bluff, Fort Smith, Fayetteville, Harrison, McGehee, Helena, Marion, Jonesboro and Blytheville.

A teletype expert said the proposed partial network would cost about $1,725 a month.

Flu Cases Are Closely Watched

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Health Department, keeping statistical track of a flu outbreak in north Arkansas, reported Wednesday that Lawrence County has had 2,170 cases in the past two weeks.

Lawrence County has a population of about 17,000 and so was the hardest hit of areas reporting during the current outbreak, which the Health Department still does not term an epidemic.

Pocahontas, in neighboring Randolph County, reported 1,000 cases Tuesday.

Schools at Searcy, Judsonia, Bergman and Lead Hill closed Tuesday as a precautionary measure and other schools, which remained open, reported a high degree of absenteeism.

Jonesboro, Fayetteville, Harrison and Bentonville were among cities reporting a high absentee rate.

Asks Americas to Get Rid of Red Menace

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP)—The United States in a searing indictment of Castro communism appealed to the other American nations today for a four-pronged counterattack to save the hemisphere from the ravages of global Red assault.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk told the inter-American foreign ministers' conference considering the threat of Cuba's communism that the Americas need a united front to protect democratic processes if the Alliance for Progress program is to succeed in its attack on the hemisphere's economic ills.

Rusk called on the 19 American nations to declare Castro communism incompatible with the inter-American system, exclude the Havana government from participation in the Organization of American States, interrupt the "limited but significant flow of trade between Cuba and the rest of the hemisphere," and set in motion individual and communal acts of defense "against the various forms of political and indirect aggression mounted against the hemisphere."

Rusk's speech was a ringing call for stern action to condemn and isolate Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime. It came at a critical moment in the conference as Brazil and several other nations pushed a drive to "soften hemispheric retaliation against Cuban communism."

The Brazilian campaign indicated there was little hope of unanimous decisive action by the 20 American states sitting in judgment on the Havana government.

Rusk labeled Castro and the Cuban Communists "smirking sycophants" of Moscow.

"What we cannot accept and will never accept is the use of Cuba as a means through which extracontinental powers seek to break up the inter-American system, to overthrow governments of other countries and to destroy the autonomous democratic revolution of the hemisphere," Rusk said.

"The Castro regime has extended."

Weather Is Good for Earth Orbit

By BEM PRICE

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Good rocketry weather is forecast for Saturday, strengthening hopes that astronaut John F. Glenn Jr. will take his historic triple whirl around the globe that day.

If he doesn't get off then, there could be another extensive delay. An official forecast issued this morning, said favorable conditions in the Atlantic area are expected to end in the next few days, but probably will extend through Saturday.

It's highly important, for a man bound on such a great adventure, to have good clear weather near the launch site, plus gentle seas and good visibility at the points where he is to come down.

In foul weather optical instruments would have difficulty tracking him, and rescue teams might have trouble fishing him out of the ocean when he alights.

Depending on whether he makes one, two or three orbits around the earth, Glenn is expected to come down in different places in the Atlantic.

The long countdown looking toward Glenn's space adventure will be started at 7 a. m. Friday. The countdown marks the checking and rechecking of innumerable factors that spell success or failure in an orbital attempt.

The count will extend over a period of 500 minutes—1-3 hours but instead of being continuous it will be split into segments.

The final five hours will begin early Saturday. This segment includes two hours of surplus time programmed in an effort to allow time to correct any trouble that might develop and still get the shot away on schedule at 7:30 a.m. If no trouble develops, these two hours will be consumed with automatic "holds" in the countdown.

If all goes well, the Marine lieutenant colonel will be boosted on his historic mission to explore space between 7:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. The launching was originally scheduled for the same time on Wednesday, but a valve in the oxygen supply system developed a fault and had to be replaced.

A NASA spokesman said Glenn, 40, continued to be relaxed and seemingly unworried. His day Wednesday was a light one.

former Air Force chief of staff, is scheduled to follow Burke.

Charges by Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., that the Pentagon has been "muzzling the military" on anti-Communist statements set off the current Senate investigation.

Kennedy told newsmen he had submitted to the State and Defense departments for advance checking portions of his own State of the Union Message to Congress dealing with foreign policy and defense.

The President said he didn't think anyone could do better than to read remarks on the subject by Burke, White and Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Kennedy said all three understand the "proper relationship between the military and civilian."

In his testimony before the subcommittee Wednesday, Lemnitzer vigorously defended the present speech clearance procedure.

ed the global battle to Latin America. It has supplied communism with a bridgehead in the Americas, and it has thereby brought the entire hemisphere into the front line of the struggle between communism and democracy. It has turned itself into an arsenal for arms and ammunition from the Communist world. With Communist help, Dr. Castro has built up the largest military establishment in Latin America.

Rusk said the Castro regime is dedicated to Marxism-Leninism and not democracy either in Cuba or the hemisphere.

"Every delegate in this hall knows in his mind and heart that those behind Castro hope to overthrow his government and every other government in Latin America. The Castro regime by repudiating the principles and philosophy of the inter-American system and making itself the American agent of world communism has created a clear and present danger to the prospects of free and democratic change in every country in Latin America," Rusk warned.

"The time has come for the American republics to unite against Communist intervention in this hemisphere."

Rusk's four-point proposal apparently represented the maximum that the United States hoped would be voted at this conference though his call for a break in trade relations went beyond what had been forecast.

Cuba's present trade is now about 80 per cent with the Soviet bloc and it has only about $7 million worth with the Americas. However, a break in trade relations would likely have a psychological impact in the hemisphere.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP)—The United States appeals publicly to the other American republics today for a strong collective stand to protect the hemisphere against subversion and infiltration by Castro communism.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, in a speech to the Inter-American Foreign Ministers' Conference, was to outline the U.S. view of what should be done to quarantine Fidel Castro's Cuban government and provide a breathing space in which President Kennedy's Alliance for Progress can come to grips with the hemisphere's grave economic problems.

There was little hope, however, that the 20 American republics could achieve unanimous action at this conference, on collective measures to punish the Castro regime for bringing Soviet-type communism to the hemisphere.

A small but potent group of nations maintained stubborn opposition to any action smacking of outright punishment—political or economic sanctions—of the Havana government. The campaign for a softer approach was spearheaded by big and influential Brazil.

The U. S. Delegation still hoped for the strongest possible demonstration of revulsion against Castroism. U.S. delegates hoped the conference would condemn Castro communism strongly, suspend the Cuban government from bodies of the Organization of American States, and recommend political and economic sanctions at least on a voluntary basis.

Resistance to all but the condemnation was expected from Brazil, Bolivia, Ecuador and perhaps a few other Latin American nations confronted with their own internal problems from leftist pressures.

The United States was willing to support the compromise idea of suspending the Castro government from OAS bodies, provided this was accompanied by a sufficiently strong denunciation of Castro.

Worst Ice Jam on the Mississippi

ST. LOUIS (AP) — One of the worst ice jams ever to block the Mississippi River has tied up an estimated 300,000 tons of cargo and brought traffic south of St. Louis to a complete standstill since Jan. 12.

Two weeks of sub-freezing weather has kept the 14-mile-long ice gorge blocking the river just north of Cairo, Ill., near the confluence of the Ohio River, frozen tight.

"Veteran river men speculated that the rising waters of the Ohio may create a back pressure sufficient to loosen the gorge. Meanwhile, a warning trend renewed some hope the huge gorge might break up within a few days."

The Army Corps of Engineers was making no predictions. In some places the ice was 15 to 25 feet thick.

Army Engineers said more than 200 barges were tied up below Cairo and 35 or 40 were scattered above the gorge between St. Louis and Cape Girardeau. Many others were tied up at loading docks in St. Louis. Total cargo capacity of the barges would exceed 300,000 tons.

Emergency Fund Suit Studied

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Pulaski Chancellor Guy E. Williams took under advisement Wednesday a request that Gov. Orval E. Faubus be stopped from spending out of his emergency fund pending settlement of a lawsuit.

Faubus was made a defendant Wednesday in the suit which attacks constitutionality of a $100,000 appropriation to the emergency fund.

The suit also challenges the Revenue Stabilization Act, the General Accounting Procedures Act and acts appropriating funds for the highway and education departments.

Williams already has under consideration a motion asking an injunction against spending in the highway and education departments until the suit is settled.

Faubus has said chaos in the state government would result if the laws are declared unconstitutional.

A 2,300-year-old theater at Epidaurus, Greece, is still packing in audiences to watch the hit plans of 40 B. C.

"Everybody's screaming for their materials. We're losing thousands of dollars daily by having so much equipment tied up."

Monsanto Chemical Co. and several other industries have been turning to railroad and truck lines for materials to maintain production.

Burke Only Objects to the Manner

BY J. C. TILLMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adm. Arleigh A. Burke testified today the draft of a major speech he proposed to make, and later disclosed the action "in such a manner as to indicate I was trying to get away with something, which I wasn't."

Burke said he had submitted the text of the proposed speech to the White House and office of the secretary of defense for clearance, and was told it "was not clearable."

Later, he said, "much to my surprise" he read newspaper stories attributed to the office of Arthur Sylvester, an assistant secretary of defense for information, disclosing that the speech text had been rejected, and that he had had to write and deliver a different speech.

Burke said the incident was last year while he was chief of naval operations. He is now retired.

He said he didn't object to the "fact I had had a speech completely censored."

"What I did object to was releasing this information to the press in such a manner as to indicate I was trying to get away with something, which I wasn't."

Burke told the story at the Senate inquiry into charges that military officers have been muzzled against making anti-Communist statements.

Earlier, he had said that he never felt he was muzzled through review or censorship of his speeches.

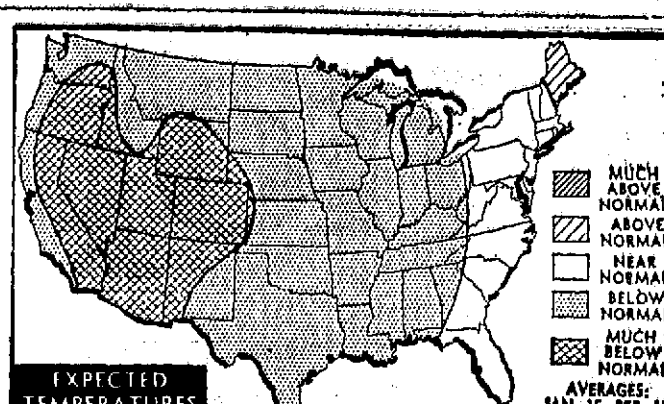

"I have no objection to it at all," Burke said of the longstanding requirement that speeches be submitted to advance review to assure they are in accord with national policy and disclose no military secrets.

President Kennedy said Wednesday the speech reviewing, which he called "very valuable," is going to continue. It is not an innovation of his administration, but was also done in the administration of Presidents Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower.

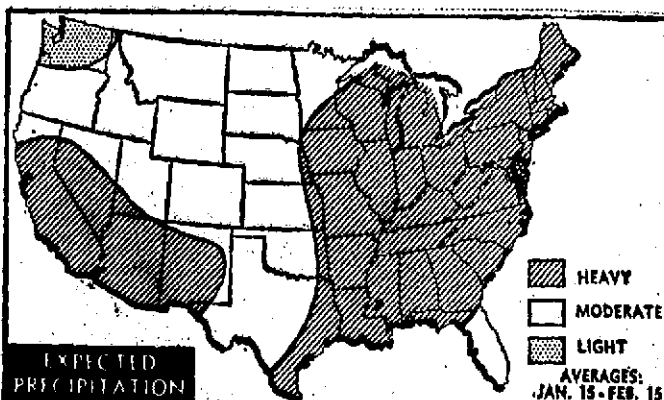

Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., who made the "muzzling" contention in a series of speeches, is among the subcommittee members.

At the outset today Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., handed out a lengthy volume showing speeches which had been censored or modified by action of Pentagon and State Department reviewers or censors.

Construction of the Lincoln Memorial began in 1915.

Greater part of the nation, but especially the West, will continue colder than normal readings going into February.

Above normal precipitation is expected to prevail in the Eastern half of the country as well as in the Southwest.

Episcopal Membership Up 13,244

HELENA, Ark. (AP) — The Rt. Rev. Robert R. Brown, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Arkansas, said today that the membership of the church in the state increased by 13,244 during the past year.

Brown spoke to 300 delegates to the 90th annual convention of the diocese at St. John's Church.

He said that during 1961 six parish houses and one classroom building were built, three rectories built or acquired and three new facilities planned.

In his charge to delegates, the bishop said that victory over a Godless communist society cannot be won by putting faith in man-made institutions.

He said persons who subscribe to various isms to combat communism "are forgetting that neither man nor man-made institutions can be the first, due to history or the ultimate source of victory."

The bishop said three things Episcopalians must do are be sure of their own faith and firm in their convictions, be involved in the fight against evil and be bold. In pre-convention activity etc. 3rd graf fr.

Prisoners Escape

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Three prisoners escaped from the Pulaski County Prison Farm Wednesday, but two were recaptured minutes later.

Supt. M. L. Cherry said the third man, Perry Justice, 21, of Little Rock was not caught.

Don McNabb, 21, and Eugene M. Zgonic, 22, both of Hot Springs were found clinging to bushes in a wooded section of Maumelle Creek.

Justice was serving a sentence for nine traffic convictions. McNabb was sentenced for traffic violations and Zgonic for contributing to the delinquency of a minor, both in Garland County.

Architect Dies

LAASANNE, Switzerland (AP) — Jean Tschumi, 57, one of Europe's best known architects, was found dead in his sleeping car compartment on a train arriving from Paris early today.

Police said he apparently died of a heart attack.

Highway Overtime

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Highway Director F. R. Oliver said Tuesday the Highway Department spent $35,000 in overtime to crews which cleared road of snow and ice during the past two weeks. Oliver said, however, that no appreciable amount of freeze damage had yet been detected in the roads.

Two Die in Plane Crash Near Spa

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Two men died when a single-engine plane crashed, exploded and burned on foggy Blakely Mountain near here Wednesday.

State Police identified the victims as H. K. Black, 33, of Safford, Ariz., the pilot, and Billy Prather, 19, of Anthony, N.M. The bodies were burned beyond recognition.

The plane hit the crest of the 1,200-foot mountain minutes after it took off from the Hot Springs airport in a heavy fog. Airport officials said Black had to get special takeoff clearance because of the weather.

The initial impact sheered off a wing, then the plane smashed through trees for 300 feet down the northwest slope of the mountain before it collapsed with a giant oak.

Gerald Kirksey of Point Cedar and Bill Eifert of Malvern, who were working on a highway crew about one mile from the crash scene, pulled the bodies from the flaming wreckage.

Eifert said the crew heard the crash but did not see it because the mountain top was shrouded in fog.

"We heard it crashing through the trees and then a muffled explosion, like someone threw a match into a gas tank," he said.

State Police established identification through the airport, which said Prather signed a credit card ticket for gas for the plane. Officers said Prather and Black were business partners who had spent Tuesday night in Hot Springs while en route from Chicago to El Paso, Tex., returning from a business trip.

The crash was the Hot Springs area's second air tragedy this month. Four persons were killed Jan. 14 less than 10 miles from the site of Wednesday's crash.

Blakely Mountain is about 12 miles northwest of Hot Springs, near Lake Ouachita. Blakely Mountain Dam, which impounds Lake Ouachita, was named for the peak.

Governor Sick

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus was confined to his bed at the Mansion today.

His physician, Dr. T. J. Raney, diagnosed the governor's illness as "the usual cold with a sore throat and upset stomach."

Raney said he had ordered Faubus to remain in bed for a few days but that the governor probably would be back in his office by Monday.

Hurray For Our Side!

By HELEN WOREN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: Teen-agers who kick about parental restriction should thank their lucky stars they have parents who care what happens to them. You recently published a letter from one who screamed to high heaven because her father and mother insisted she be home by 9:30. You would think they were ordering her shot at sunrise.

Until I was 18, I had to be in by 9:30 every night. Until I reached 21 and married, curfew was 10:30 p.m. I never hated my parents for their strictness; in fact I am damned glad that they loved me enough to see that I kept those hours.

It was for my own good—that I know.

Two girl friends, both of fine families, were allowed to do as they pleased, and got into trouble.

I have a wonderful husband. We are supremely happy. As yet there are no children, but once our house is complete, we shall start raising a family.

If we have any girls, I will see that they keep curfew. Please print this for the sake of those rebel teen-agers and their long suffering parents. —Steady Reader

Dear Steady: I hope those rebellious teenagers read and take notice, but I also hope that their parents meet them half way by providing some spot, even if only the basement or garage, where they can entertain their friends at home. The kids could decorate the place themselves. That would be part of the fun.

Dear Helen: We, a group of Acadia College girls in Nova Scotia, are disturbed by your attitude toward teenage dating. If you think that 18 year old girls need to be chaperoned by a delegation of cardplaying parents, as you wrote in a recent column, you are an old fuddy-duddy.

Let's face facts. Teens can't be tied to their mother's apron strings forever. We realize the necessity for supervision in early dating years, but giving the child a chance to grow up makes them responsible for controlling their emotions. If they have been properly reared, we bet they will come through with colors flying. Please print our views —Three 18 year Old Girls from Wolfville, Nova Scotia.

Dear Girls: Having been exposed to the temptations of a Wolfville, you may be immune, but I doubt if even you could resist the right boy, occasion and place. Given that fatal combination of a lad who is both handsome and persuasive, a college prom at which you look your loveliest, and a silvery moon for a prop—what would you do—turn and run?

Believe me, I am all for putting teenagers on their own but until a girl is mature enough to know the answers, she needs to be protected.

Dear Helen: This is addressed to divorcees who hit at their ex husbands through their children. Why punish innocent young things for selfish revenge? My friends call me crazy because I encourage my former husband to visit our two children any time he wishes. The kids have nothing to do with what happened between their father and me. They know we both love them.

This provides a security which the average child of divorced parents lacks. Ours are well adjusted, normal and happy, which is more than most parents who agree, can say of their children. —Marie Zachary, Hamden, Conn.

Dear Mrs. Zachary: Good for you! Few women are as broad minded. Most ex-wives take a dog-in-the-manger attitude.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine, care of this newspaper. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Our Fine Teen Agers."

Architect for Revenue Bldg.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Revenue Building Commission will meet soon to hire an architect to draw plans for the $1.6 million structure.

Revenue Commissioner Ted Donham said Monday's Supreme Court decision upholding a 1961 law under which the building will be financed cleared the way for the commission to act.

Donham indicated Howard Eichenbaum of Little Rock, whose firm designed the Justice Building, was his choice for the job.

The question of where on the capitol grounds the building will be located has not been settled. Secretary of State Nancy Hall, who will have the final say, is waiting until the commission suggests a site.

Mrs. Hall said she would oppose any location which would detract from the beauty of the capitol grounds or cause growing.

The building will be financed by a bond issue which will be repaid with income from a 50-cent a little registration fee increase and

Chapter XXVIII

It was at this point that Pye Littlejohn was shown into Don Julio's office. He wore a white albatross topcoat which, for all its smartness, made him look like a snowman.

"Pye Littlejohn, sir," he said, as he shook hands with Don Julio. "I'm with the American Embassy up in Madrid. Internal Affairs Spain. Now about that fellow building the road. You got him here?"

"Yes," Don Julio frowned faintly. "But I don't quite understand your interest in the matter."

"It's kind of hush-hush. Policy. Big Picture. That sort of thing. Now I don't think we've got to be too serious about this fellow, Campbell, and those other boys who was helping him. What I mean is, it's kind of funny if you look at it from the right angle."

"I've looked at it from several angles," Don Julio said. "I haven't found the funny one yet."

"Say, mind if I use your phone?"

"Of course not."

Littlejohn put through a call to Madrid in clumsy but functional Spanish.

Littlejohn finally got the office he wanted, and then, after talking loudly but cheerfully with several secretaries, he got his man.

"Ola, Pepe! Pye Littlejohn here—in Miramar. Hey look: remember I called you a few days ago about a project of mine down here? You do? Great! Now listen. The local constable—he's a wonderful guy, by the way—Littlejohn winked broadly at Don Julio.

"But he doesn't understand the picture. Would you talk to him a second? Fine!" Littlejohn handed the receiver to Don Julio. "Just talk to my friend, Pepe. I think he can probably clear things up."

Don Julio smiled and put the phone to his ear. "Don Julio Canasana, constable of Miramar," he said, in clipped formal accents.

He listened expressionlessly for an instant; then, with a surprised look at the receiver, he straightened to attention.

"Yes, your excellency," he said. Littlejohn winked at me and began to remove the wrapper from a cigar.

"Yes, your excellency," Don Julio said again.

Littlejohn chuckled and lit his cigar. The rich thick smoke curled about his benignly cheerful face like incense.

Don Julio replaced the receiver with care. Then he looked steadily at Littlejohn. "The Englishman will be released," he said, and inclined his head in a small bow.

"The work will resume on the road. Those are orders from Madrid."

"Didn't I tell you?" Littlejohn said. "Spanish courtesy, you can't beat it. I certainly appreciate this, Don Julio."

Men Face Up to Fact More Readily

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions:

Men are more willing than women to face up to the fact they are homely. One reason is, mirrors. Beauty lies in the eyes of the beholder, and women look at themselves so often in the mirror that in time even the homeliest falls in love with the image of herself.

The best time to borrow money from a man is the day after he gets his first set of false teeth. He lacks self-confidence then, and will go to almost any length to gain social approval.

It became a woman's world when they took cuspidors out of barbershops and other public places. It'll become a man's world again when they put them back.

Why is it big fat women usually prefer skinny little dogs as pets? Somehow I always feel sorry for people who brag about how many words their parakeets can say. Anyone who goes around quoting a parakeet has led a starved life.

A rugged individualist is a fellow who carries his golf clubs to church on Sunday—before going on to the country club.

Beware the man who always looks you straight in the eye when speaking to you. A confidence man is more likely to do this than an honest man.

One of the most cherished crutches of the poor is their belief that they know how to enjoy life more than the rich. The rich encourage this delusion because it keeps the poor more content with their lot.

People joke about doctors buying expensive automobiles, but when he's sick the average man would rather be treated by a doctor who drives a big car than by one who drives a small car.

A daughter who can't wrap her father around her little finger by the time she's 3 years old will have a hard time getting married later in life.

A well-adjusted middle-aged man is one who would rather be able to eat red cabbage without discomfort than look like Montgomery Clift.

My idea of an intellectual is anyone who reads paperback books that cost $1.95 instead of those that sell for four bits.

Pork Good Bet in Markets This Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Housewives will find the pork section of the meat counters in the nation's grocery stores very inviting this weekend.

Smoked hams and pork chops are highlighted specials in almost all geographical areas. Smoked loins are a feature of one large grocery chain.

Bacon is cheaper some places but a rise in the wholesale price of pork bellies suggests this may not continue.

The best beef buys are large, among the less ritzy cuts—round steaks and roasts, rump and rib roasts, chuck roasts and ground beef, but the price is down also on sirloin in the Midwest and cube steaks are a special several places.

Lamb legs and chops are lower in some areas.

Poultry remains a good dollar-stretcher, but with the exception of turkeys, prices are strengthened after several weeks of a buyers' market.

The effect of bad weather continues to be felt at produce counters, though buyers will find adequate supplies. There are plentiful supplies of carrots, onions, potatoes, turnips, cabbage, celery, lettuce, squash, sweet potatoes and tomatoes.

Avocados are specials on both the East and West coasts. Nationally, good fruit offerings include apples, oranges, grapefruit and lemons.

State Votes for Marketing Quotas

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas joined other producing states Tuesday in voting to continue federal marketing quotas on this year's rice crop.

The Arkansas vote was 2,628 for quotas and 56 against.

The returns from seven major producing states—Louisiana, Texas, California, Mississippi, Missouri, and Florida are the others—gave 8,322 favorable votes and 504 negative ones.

The majority was 94.2 per cent, compared to the required two-thirds.

Carlton Hot, Porks Down Tulsa 99-77

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The Arkansas Razorbacks broke away in the final six minutes and walloped Tulsa 99-77 in a non-conference basketball game Wednesday night.

Jerry Carlton, the Parkers' 6-1 playmaker, rained in 16 points in the closing burst. Fourteen of these came in the last four minutes. He had 21 in the second half and 26 for the game.

The Hogs, running their record to 11-3, go moving after Tulsa closed to within four points — at 77-73 — late in the second half.

James King, the Fort Smith, Ark., lad who usually sparks the Tulsaans, was held without a field goal in the first half and finished with only 11 points for the night.

But King was a big factor in the Tulsa drive which cut down a 30-point halftime deficit and freightened the Parkers into action.

King and Tommy Boyer of Arkansas, teammates on the 1959 state championship squad at Fort Smith, both fouled out. Boyer had 14 points.

Arkansas put three other players in double figures — Larry Wofford with 16, Jim Wilson with 12 and Jerry Rogers with 10.

Wofford played with Boyer and King on the 1959 Grizzly team. Jerry Maloy was Tulsa's most effective weapon with 19 points.

Arkansas jumped to a quick 13-point lead and held a 46-36 advantage at halftime.

The Parkers, who haven't played since Jan. 12 because of mid-term exams, now lay off until next Tuesday night when they resume Southwest Conference play against Rice at Fayetteville.

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas State routed Austin Peay (Tenn.) State 114-101 here Wednesday night, setting a team scoring record in the process.

The game ended with four players on the floor for each team. Arkansas State Coach John Raudt pulled one of his players after the visitors lost a sixth man to personal fouls. Austin Peay brought only 10 players.

State's previous single game high was 110 points scored against Union University, another Tennessee school, in 1955.

Jerry Rook, a freshman, paced the State scoring parade with 28 points. Austin Peay's Jim Be-shars was high for the game with 24.

The victory put State's season record at 7-4.

Maris, Yankees Still Far Apart

NEW YORK (AP)—Home run king Roger Maris and New York Yankee officials, still a reported $10,000 apart on Maris' 1962 contract, will wait until the club heads to Florida for further negotiations.

"No agreement was reached," General Manager Roy Hamey said after a 20-minute meeting with Maris Wednesday. "Further contract negotiations will be resumed in Florida next month."

Both Hamey and Maris will attend the New York Baseball Writers' dinner Sunday night but apparently any talks will be social only.

Maris reportedly is asking $70,000 after his sensational 1961 season, when he rapped 61 home runs in a 162-game schedule and won the American League's most valuable player award for the second straight time.

Hamey is believed to be trying to hold Roger down to around $60,000.

President in Defense of Known 'Risks'

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy came swiftly and vigorously to the defense of two State Department officials described by a woman reporter in a news conference question as "well known security risks."

In a dramatic exchange Wednesday, the President not only vouched for the security status of the pair but rebuked the reporter.

He told Sarah McClellan, Washington representative for several Texas and New England newspapers, that she was using "a very strong term which I would think that you should be prepared to substantiate."

The President said he was familiar with the status of the two men — William Arthur Wieland and J. Clayton Miller — and declared they can carry out the duties assigned to them in the State Department "without detriment to the interests of the United States."

He sharply told Mrs. McClellan he hoped they could do so "without detriment to their character by your question."

Mrs. McClellan touched off the exchange when she said "two well known security risks" recently had been put on a task force in the State Department to help reorganize the Office of Security.

The President interrupted to ask for the names, and Mrs. McClellan gave them.

Within a few hours a State Department spokesman added to the President's comments at another news conference, declaring that the two men had neither been charged nor found to be security risks. Both were reported now assigned to the Office of Management in the Bureau of Administration at the State Department.

The ticklish nature of the episode led the National Broadcast Co. to delete the exchange from its taped broadcast of the presidential news conference. The network said it had been told by the White House press secretary, Pierre Salinger, that the exchange was not legally privileged.

Both the American Broadcast Co. and the Columbia Broadcasting System aired the conference in full, however, and other news media carried full reports.

Neither Wieland nor Miller could be reached for comment.

After Kennedy's news conference, it was reported both men were closeted with Undersecretary of State George W. Ball and Roger W. Jones, deputy under secretary for administration.

Later Lincoln White, State Department press officer, called in reporters and quoted Jones as giving the State Department's assurances that Wieland and Miller had neither been charged nor found to be security risks.

Wieland, in his present job since last October, formerly was chief of the State Department division in charge of Cuban, Mexican and Caribbean affairs. The State Department said Miller had been assigned to the Office of Management last June, when he

Southern Association Suspend

By KEN AYLTA

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—The Class AA Southern Association, at 61 years one of the nation's oldest minor baseball leagues, has been forced to suspend operations, with two of its four remaining members finding refuge in the lower Class A South Atlantic League.

Nashville and Chattanooga, Tenn., leave the folded Southern Association to make the South Atlantic a 10-team league for this season only. Evansville, Ind., and Little Rock are left without a league.

However, there's an "if." Nashville has been given until Feb. 5 to obtain a general Class A working agreement with a major league team.

Should the deadline not be met, Joe Engel, veteran Chattanooga general manager, said his club would not operate this year, either.

The South Atlantic then would be right back with eight teams. A grim George M. Trautman, head of the minor leagues presiding over the two-hour closed meeting that sounded the death knell of the charter member of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues.

It reduced to 19 the number of active minor leagues. Chattanooga, Nashville, Evansville and Little Rock had major league affiliations and were ready to field teams in 1962. But no more working agreements could be obtained. And the South Atlantic took a dim view of a proposal that the twelve teams be divided into two six-team leagues.

Fayetteville Wins

VAN BUREN, Ark. (AP)—Fayetteville, No. 1 in The Associated Press rankings of Arkansas prep basketball teams, took its 15th straight victory 27-18 over Van Buren Tuesday night.

Fayetteville played a stalling game after running up a 7-0 lead. Van Buren failed to score in the first five minutes.

Justin Daniel led Fayetteville scoring with 10 points.

Little Rock Hall, the No. 2 club, ran its record to 14-2 with a 47-41 triumph over Conway.

To Stay on Tour

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The aircraft carrier Saratoga will stay in the Mediterranean an extra month and a half on its current tour of duty there, the Navy reported.

A new date for return of the Saratoga to its home base of Mayport Naval Station near Jacksonville has been set as May 11. No reason for the extended stay was given.

Bob Schaumburg clicked on a field goal with two seconds to go, giving the Air Force a 58-56 victory over Denver.

And in an afternoon game, small college powerhouse Hofstra came from 12 points back in the second half and dealt Army its first loss at home in two years, 57-45. It was the 12th straight victory and 13th in 14 starts for Hofstra, ranked sixth in the AP small college poll.

Skillet Hash Supreme

When there are no left-overs from Sunday dinner or you want to serve one of those hurry-up suppers or lunches try this canned corned beef hash and cheddar cheese dish. It's a main dish that can be prepared easily and served buffet style from the kitchen range or from table or sideboard. Accompany with spiced fruit, buttered green beans and your favorite cake square topped with red cherry sauce.

Cheddar Supper Hash

- 2 cans (1 lb. each) corned beef hash
- 2 medium size onions
- 2 cups grated cheddar cheese

Spread hash evenly in skillet and cook over low heat until browned. Combine cheese and grated onion and spread over partially cooked hash. Cook until hash is browned and cheese is melted. Six servings (approx. 1/2 cup each).

Red Cherry Sauce

- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 can (1 lb.) water pack red tart pitted cherries
- Red food coloring (optional)

Combine sugar, cornstarch, salt, juice drained from cherries and food coloring. Cook until thickened, stirring. Add cherries; simmer 5 minutes. Serve warm over cake, or chilled over ice cream. Six servings.

Imports Can Push U.S. More in Red

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Imports rising faster than exports can put the United States $3 billion behind this year in its financial dealings with the rest of the world—the fifth straight annual deficit in its balance of payments.

That's the estimate of more than 40 economists and financial officers of leading U.S. corporations with exporting, importing and international financial dealings.

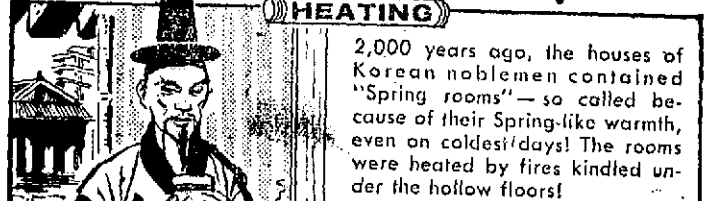

The deficit could further embarrass the administration in its battle to bring such a loss to a halt, ward off any threat of new outflows of U.S. Treasury gold or of new doubts abroad about the strength of the dollar.

The experts—the Balance of Payments Group of the National Foreign Trade Council—say the $3-billion deficit could be brought down if advance payments on military contracts are made by Germany and possibly other nations. This could hold the deficit to around $2.5 billion, roughly the same as is estimated for 1961.

Such advance payments helped hold the 1961 deficit down.

The worry over a continuing deficit of any magnitude comes from the 1960 experience when a $3.9-billion deficit set off a $1.7-billion loss of gold. This and fear of dollar devaluation sent the price of that metal from its official $35 an ounce to a brief $40.60 on the London free market late in October 1960.

It caused both the outgoing Dwight D. Eisenhower and incoming President Kennedy administrations to take measures to halt the outflow and trim the deficit. They sought to boost exports, cut spending abroad, and raise interest rates here high enough to keep short-term money here—in 1960 some $2 billion of this went overseas to get higher returns.

HEATING
2,000 years ago, the houses of Korean noblemen contained "Spring rooms"—so called because of their Spring-like warmth, even on coldest days! The rooms were heated by fires kindled under the hollow floor!

Ramans heated their famous baths by piping hot gases from a central charcoal fire under the floor and up through flues in the walls. They were first to make extensive use of "radiant heating" in which floor and wall act as large warming panels.

Today many modern homes and buildings are heated by the same principle. Panels of steel pipe concealed in the floor or ceiling, supply invisible, clean and draft-free comfort that duplicates the sun's own radiation.

Cites Trouble With Program for Children

WASHINGTON (AP)—Richard S. Salant, president of Columbia Broadcasting System news, said today informational programming for children is "one of the most perplexing and frustrating problems that we face."

Salant, first witness as the Federal Communication Commission's hearings on network programming entered their second day, said CBS has set aside a development fund in this area.

"We have three pilots under way to determine what we can do in the way of effective informational programming for children—one pilot on American history, one on literature, and one on the contemporary world of reality."

Salant was the last CBS witness before the FCC staff and members start asking questions on his and previous testimony.

He said news and information broadcasts on the CBS television network have been increased about 40 per cent over the last television season. These programs Salant said, would total about 600 hours "or about 17 per cent of the total network schedule."

CBS President Frank Stanton and Jaumes A. Aubrey Jr., president of the CBS television network, were witnesses Tuesday. The National Broadcasting Co. and American Broadcasting Co. will be heard in the next two weeks.

The FCC study is to determine the scope and character of network television operations, how much control the networks have over what American viewers see, and what kind of regulation is needed.

Chairman Newton Minow noted in his opening statement that while the FCC holds individual stations responsible for their programs, the character of these programs is determined primarily by the networks over which the commission has no control. Stanton strongly opposed federal regulation, saying the way to better television programming is through competition from more stations and more networks.

Aubrey said networks help stations by providing them with a varied schedule of programs, plus revenues from those programs which are sponsored.

Group to Probe Congo Massacre

NOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Sheriff Joe Wood of Cross County was named Tuesday to head a committee to push for adoption of a proposed constitutional amendment to permit higher pay for county officials.

The committee was organized by officials who are meeting here in connection with the Arkansas Sheriffs Association Convention.

The amendment, numbered 32 for ballot purposes, is similar to proposed Amendment 51, which was defeated in 1960.

The new amendment would permit paying officials in larger counties up to $4,500 annually. They are now limited to $5,000 a year. The proposed new scale is lower for smaller counties.

The sheriffs' meeting, postponed earlier this month because of bad weather, formally opens today. The main topic on the agenda is discussion of a proposed statewide teletype network for sheriffs' offices. Gov. Jimmie Davis of Louisiana is scheduled to address a banquet meeting tonight. Davis will be introduced by Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

Firms to Keep Bankruptcy Money

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—U.S. District Judge Gordon E. Young has ruled that two Little Rock firms can keep $3,243 they received in 1960 for services they performed for two companies now bankrupt. The Murry, trustee for the bankrupt firms — Arkansas Business Development Corp., and Lenders Service Co., an ABDC subsidiary — contended the money belonged in the assets of the firms so it could be divided among all creditors.

Involved in the ruling are a $1,998 check issued to the Frank J. Willis Co., an advertising agency, on Feb. 22, 1960, and a $1,245 check issued on May 17, 1960, to Bilheimer Printing and Lithographing Co., which has since been succeeded by the Hansen Co., Inc. ABDC and LSC were declared bankrupt June 20, 1960.

After seven years of existence as part of Missouri Territory, Arkansas was created a separate Territory by Congress in 1819.

Kovacs Show Was Typical of Comedian

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The television show that Ernie Kovacs put together and taped a few weeks before his death on Jan. 13 was shown by ABC Tuesday night. Happily, it contained a typical and wide assortment of the things that Ernie—and most of the rest of us—thought were funny.

There were the wordless, short sight gags—the beautiful lady of the harem who drops her veil to reveal a Van Dyke beard; the house of cards that drops through the concrete foundation as the last pasteleboard is put in place; an art restorer working on Lincoln's twitching nose at Mt. Rushmore, to mention a few.

There were fine sketches of drollish phony avant garde poetry, painting and sculpture done in "Person-to-Person" style. In the first, Kovacs, playing the interviewer, conducted an arty interview with a poet who was persuaded to read his new epic, "Dearth."

"Dearth, dearth, dwack
"Oh, sheaves of weed the wind"
"There's a lot of truth in that," said Kovacs in reverent tones.

It was a droll, imaginative nonsense. The sponsor omitted the commercials, and at the end an announcer quoted the clergyman at Kovacs' funeral, "We loved this man. He gave happiness, joy and gaiety to the world." And he did, including Tuesday night.

Hugh O'Brien, who after all those successful years playing a bold, intrepid Western lawman in "Wyatt Earp" has managed to pull out of the type-casting rut, so feared by performers, in just time. This fall he starred in a Broadway play, a family drama, and now he will play the hero in an upcoming NBC "Theatre '62," adaptation of "Spellbound," a role about as far away from a quick-draw cowboy marshal as an actor can get.

Although TV inherited a number of radio's habits and devices, including its rigid method of splitting the hour into 15-minute, half-hour and one-hour shows, it has developed its very own conventions in dealing with weather reports.

Where radio usually handles climate conditions adequately with a brisk sentence or two at the end of its news reports, TV has developed special weather shows, and they last a full five minutes. What most of us want to hear can be delivered in split seconds: what is it doing now and what will it be like tomorrow?

But TV has gussied up weather reports with charts, chalk-talks, pretty girls, selections from almanacs and reminders of important dates in history, discussions of high pressure systems moving down and low pressure systems moving up and a sampling of temperature highs and lows all over the country.

Why? So the station can sell a five-minute weather show package to sponsors, that's why!

Minister Killed Near DeQueen

DE QUEEN, Ark. (AP)—Raymond Rudolph, 40, minister of the Dierks Church of Christ was killed Tuesday night near De Queen when his car collided with a pickup truck.

Rudolph, a native of near Sarslem, Ill., had arrived in Dierks last Thursday to head the Church of Christ there. He is survived by his widow and two sons.

Unified Decor in the Kitchen

Beautiful wood effect in this provincial kitchen is carried over into the built-in appliances to produce a soft, unified decor. Special feature of the KitchenAid dishwasher permits use of wood fronts to match the cabinets. Both sections of the dishwasher front, the door and the lower panel, can be changed easily to match future changes in the kitchen decor. Variable-front styling of dishwasher also permits homemaker to match the dishwasher with the countertop, the wall or the floor covering, because it accommodates plastic laminates, wallpaper, cloth or comparable materials.

Easy-Do Peach Cobblers For Two

Bachelor girls, bachelor boys or Mom and Dad when they are having dinner alone together will find "Pronto Peach Cobbler for Two" just the right dessert to climax the menu.

Even a novice cook can prepare these individual cobbler with-in five minutes, thanks to the convenience of using cling peach halves straight from the can along with handy biscuit mix. Bake them about 15 minutes and serve with cream for an easy but delicious treat.

If you want a richer topping, stir a teaspoon of melted butter into the dough with the milk. But don't tamper with the base of juicy ellings, peach syrup, cinnamon and sugar because nothing else is needed to improve its luscious flavor.

Pronto Peach Cobbler For Two

- 2 canned cling peach halves
- 2 tablespoons syrup from peaches
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- Cinnamon
- 1/2 cup biscuit mix
- 1 tablespoon and 1 teaspoon milk
- Cream

Place a peach half rounded side up and a tablespoon syrup from peaches in each of two individual baking dishes. Sprinkle each with a teaspoon sugar and a generous dash cinnamon. Combine remaining teaspoon sugar, biscuit mix and milk to make a soft dough. Spoon dough on top of each peach. Bake in 425-degree (hot) oven about 15 minutes, until topping is browned. Serve warm, with cream. Makes 2 servings.

Jailbird Gets Two Sentences

SEARCY, Ark. (AP)—Ples Duty who has spent most of his 33 years in prison, was sentenced to two concurrent 10-year terms Tuesday on guilty pleas to forgery and uttering.

Duty's criminal record dates back to 1910 and includes charges of desertion from both the Army and Navy. He was arrested last week in Bald Knob.

Sheriff Jack Price said Duty is wanted now in Newport, Jonesboro and other cities on check charges. White County Circuit Judge Elmo Taylor pronounced sentence of Duty and said he would recommend that he be confined in the tuberculosis section of Cummins Prison Farm.

Warns U. S. Is in Tough Spot

BOSTON (AP)—Army Secretary Elvis J. Stahr Jr., told a Boston audience today "we must all face up to the fact that we're in a tough spot, and before we work our way out of it, we may have to fight and if we do, somebody will get hurt."

He was addressing a joint meeting of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce and the Association of the United States Army.

"It's up to us to see that the United States and its friends, and generations yet unborn, aren't the ones who suffer fatal consequences," he said.

Accident Fatal Near Jonesboro

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Mrs. Fred Harrell, 44, of Monette, was killed instantly today when her automobile collided with a tank truck four miles east of Jonesboro.

State Trooper Jerry Maynard said Mrs. Harrell's car apparently ran off onto a muddy shoulder, causing her to lose control.

Maynard said Bobby W. Morris, 25, of West Helena, driver of the truck, was slightly injured. Both vehicles plunged into a ditch.

Maynard said, but neither overturned.

Military Draft in East Germany

BERLIN (AP)—Communist East Germany's Parliament approved a military draft today without a dissenting vote.

Men between 18 and 26 will be called up for 18 months of training. The defense minister, Gen. Heinz Hoffman, said the draft was introduced "at the demand of the workers" as a shield against Western aggression.

East Germany has so far relied on volunteers for its armed forces. Considerable pressure was applied to youths to make them sign up.

Historical Group Approves Goals

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP)—The Jackson County Historical Society approved goals Monday night of $1,900 for purchase of the Jacksonport Courthouse and of $5,000 for repairs.

The 100-year-old, two-story brick structure that figured in Civil War events in the community was to be sold by private owners and razed.

The historical society was promptly formed on notice of its disposition and, at the group's first meeting Monday night, a campaign to buy and repair the structure approved.

The building has been vacant for many years. Jacksonport lost out to Newport as the county seat when railroad activity went to Newport. But for one vote by the territorial legislature, Jacksonport once would have been the Arkansas state capital.

Retirement Case in Progress

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A suit over $21,439 in state funds which matched teacher retirement contributions of administrative and clerical employees in professional teachers' group was heard today.

Chancellor Murray O. Reed asked the parties to submit written briefs.

Winston C. Chandler, a member of the Pulaski County Rural school board, filed the suit in opposition to a 1957 law under which employees of the Arkansas Education Association and the Arkansas Teachers Association (Negro) had their contributions matched by state funds as do classroom teachers.

Since passage of a 1961 act, however, the AEA and the ATA, rather than the state, make the matching contributions for the administrative and clerical employees.

Chandler seeks recovery for the state of state money.

Sheriffs Open Convention

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Sheriffs Association opens its once-deferred annual convention here today.

Kelly Bryant of Little Rock the association's executive secretary, and Garland Sheriff Duffie Searcy said early arrivals were conferring informally with representatives of other officials' groups about proposed constitutional amendment No. 52.

This proposal, to be voted on next November, would increase official salaries.

Another matter scheduled for discussion at the meeting is proposed establishment of a Teletype network for state law enforcement officers.

Gov. Jimmie Davis of Louisiana will be the convention's principal speaker. He will address a banquet meeting Wednesday night.

The convention originally was set for earlier this month, but was postponed because of heavy snow.

Two Major Airlines Plan to Merge

NEW YORK (AP)—A plan to combine American Airlines and Eastern Airlines into the nation's biggest air carrier was barely off the ground today when storm clouds began to gather.

The Transport Workers Union, which has threatened a strike Feb. 4 in protest against the proposed Pennsylvania-New York Central railroads merger, indicated it also would fight the airlines plan.

Mathew Guinan, a deputy to union President Michael J. Quill, and James P. Horst, head of the TWU Airline Division, called a news conference a spokesman said is "not to applaud" the proposal.

The TWU represents several hundred mechanics and maintenance workers of Americans across the country, including those at Tulsa, Okla. where Americans maintains a huge overhaul and repair base.

The union word followed quick criticism from a rival carrier, Trans World Airlines, and also came before expected objections from other carriers.

American Airlines opened on the New York Stock Exchange today at $23.62, off 25 cents, and later widened the loss to nearly $1. Eastern was up 12 cents at $27.50 at the start, but soon fell into the minus column.

The surviving system, with annual revenues of well over $700 million, would be the country's fourth largest transportation enterprise, topped only by the Pennsylvania, New York Central and Southern Pacific railroads.

The consolidated line would be called American Airlines, erasing the name of the pioneer Eastern Air Lines from the roster of American carriers.

The proposal to create a system with $900 million in assets, 39,000 employees and 400 aircraft will be submitted to stockholders of both companies and the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The board, which has generally encouraged mergers, had no immediate comment.

There was no mention in the announcement of Eddie Rickenbacker, 71, famed World War I air ace who is chairman of the board and chairman of the executive committee of Eastern.

An Eastern Air Lines spokesman said only that Rickenbacker would continue to hold those posts as long as Eastern remained an entity.

The merger would be another step in the quickening scramble to tie together competing transportation lines in an effort to pull out of a financial morass.

United Air Lines and heavily-indebted Capital Airlines merged last May, making United the big gest of the domestic carriers. On the rail front, the New York Central and Pennsylvania systems agreed last week to merge. Other proposed combinations are being pushed.

The 11 trunk air carriers lost an aggregate of about $30 million in 1961. Eastern went deeply in the red while American earned $6.8 million.

C. R. Smith, president of American, and Malcolm A. MacIntyre, president of Eastern, jointly announced that the aim of the merger was to provide a stronger system "which can survive today's financial crisis, meet its obligations to the public and cope with the technological demands of the future."

They estimated savings of $50 million a year could be effected by eliminating duplicating flights and other services and by better utilization of equipment and facilities.

Smith would be chairman and chief executive officer of the Eastern-American combine with MacIntyre president and second in executive authority.

The merger terms provide that Eastern stockholders would receive for each Eastern share held 1.3 shares of American, plus warrants good for five years to purchase an additional one third share of American at $28 a share.

American, now No. 2 in size behind United, basically is a transcontinental line but also serves points in the Midwest, border, middle Atlantic and New England states and into the Southwest as far as Dallas-Fort Worth.

Fourth-ranked Eastern's routes are concentrated mainly along the Eastern seaboard. It also flies northwest to Minneapolis-St. Paul, southwest to Dallas-Fort Worth, to Miami, Fla., Bermuda, Puerto Rico and Mexico City.

The lines serve 30 cities in common.

More Smallpox

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP)—A second case of smallpox has been diagnosed in Switzerland, the government health service reported today.

Mass vaccination is in progress in Schaffhausen, near the German border. The disease was originally imported by a German mining engineer returning from Liberia. Several cases have been diagnosed in West Germany.

Israel is once again using King Solomon's mines — to produce copper for the state.

Asks Action on Printing Contracts

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—State Auditor Jimmie Jones said today he has drafted an affidavit asking the Supreme Court to advance an appeal of a ruling on state printing contracts. "In the interest of service by the state printing plant, what is becoming a big emergency," Jones said.

Jones issued a memorandum to all disbursing officers today reminding them of the recent ruling by the Pulaski Chancery court that state printing contracts to be out of supplies by this month. Parkin Printing Co. were invalid.

and told them he has been seeking to find ways to buy supplies. The ruling, which said it is illegal for a firm which has an interest in holding a state printing contract, has brought doubts as to the validity of other contracts. The court has issued an order restraining the auditor from honoring or paying warrants issued in payment for materials or services by the Parkin company, whose president is Chairman Hargrove of the Highway Commission.

Since the ruling was issued, state supplies have become short, Jones said. Many agencies will have to stop printing contracts to be out of supplies by this month. He said his department has 178 requisitions from 47 agencies now held on deposit.

Memphis Star Is Slandered by Porks

MEMPHIS (AP)—The University of Arkansas has signed Jimmie Jones, a Messick High tackle who was the most sought after football player among the city's current crop of senior stars.

Mabry, a 6-3, 215-pounder, signed an application for an athletic scholarship with Head Coach Frank Broyles and Line Coach Wilson Matthews here Tuesday night.

Broyles called Mabry a line prospect equal to any in the nation and said: "We're expecting great things from him."

Made Point, Probers Are Told

WASHINGTON (AP)—Army Lt. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau testified today that changes made by censors in some of his anti-Communist speeches have "caused me to wonder" but have not prevented me from getting across my basic message.

Trudeau, head of Army research and development and former chief of Army intelligence, made the statements in testimony at a Senate investigation of charges that Pentagon censorship has muzzled military men.

He said the State Department was responsible for some changes or suggested changes in his texts, but that he did not always know the sources of the changes.

Trudeau quoted changes called for by censors in one of his speeches, adding that there also were changes in others "with the source (of the suggested changes) unidentified, which gave my staff and me cause for wonder about the motivation involved."

In the text of a Trudeau speech prepared for delivery Nov. 19, before the American Ordnance Association in Washington, he said, the State Department suggested that he should not say "the tenets of Marx and Engels and Lenin are as firm a part of the Communist doctrine as when they were announced."

The general said: "The Department of State's comment to this suggested change was, and again I quote: 'They (the Communists) have jettisoned many of these tenets. Unfortunately, because tenets were retarding industrial expansion.'"

The general said he always was mindful of a soldier's duty when confronted with censorship. A soldier does not question the policies and decisions of higher government authority. He accepts them.

Censoring of Trudeau's speeches by the Defense Department was one of the main examples cited by Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., in forcing the investigation by a special Senate Armed Services subcommittee.

Thurmond complained of 10 instances in which, he said, anti-Communist statements had been stricken from speeches by the military to public groups. He didn't say who made the speeches.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said later that all 10 had been cut from speech texts written by Trudeau. The secretary added that Trudeau had made 64 speeches in the year.

Trudeau will be followed on the witness stand by Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

A letter from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower suggesting a change in the policy on the censoring of speeches was inserted in the record as the hearings began Tuesday.

"I question the desirability of requiring the topmost government officials, whether military or civilian to submit to censorship to content—as distinguished from security matters—prior to their utterance," Eisenhower said.

This was done under his and preceding administrations, the former president said, but added that after thoughtful reconsideration, "I incline to the view that when responsible and respected officials feel compelled to submit to censorship, we are smothering the concept of personal responsibility under the practice of heavy-handed and unjustified staff supervision."

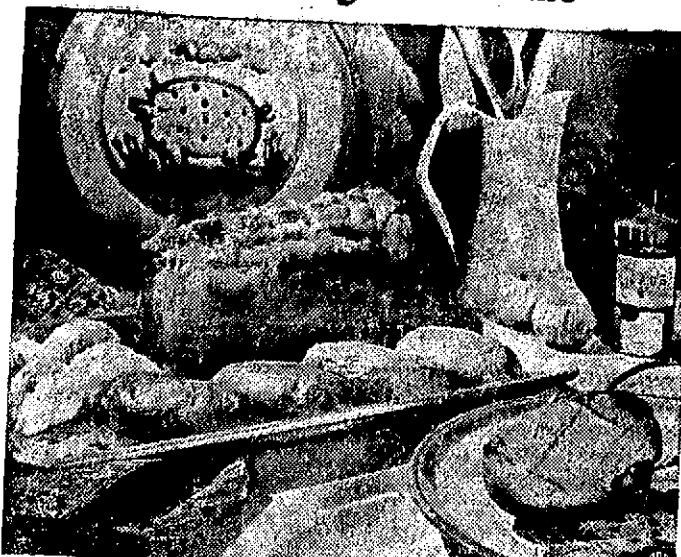

But he also said there must be a "rule of reason" in applying policies.

Retired Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, former chief of naval operations, warned against "too much emphasis" on censorship of military men's speeches.

Thurmond argues that this censorship is muzzling and hampers officers in efforts to inform troops and the public on communism.

McNamara maintains it is not muzzling. He says the editing of speeches was designed to keep military spokesmen's public views in line with national policy.

Good Eating From Idaho

Halved Idaho Russet potatoes and Sweet Spanish onions baked in the drippings of the roast loin of pork make a mighty good, as well as obliging, all-in-the-oven meal. Serve it with coleslaw or Waldorf salad, hot rolls, beverage, a light or no dessert. Here is a menu you'll repeat many times.

These two famous Idaho-grown vegetables, such good buys in our markets now, may be served in so many ways that they may well become the backbone of many a meal, sometimes a meal in themselves. Couldn't you make a meal of a big "Baked Idaho" or a Ham-and-Rice Stuffed Onion? M-m-m!

Roast Loin of Pork with Dripping-Baked Potatoes and Onions (for 6 servings)

4-pound pork loin roast powdered sage salt and pepper
3 or 4 large Idaho potatoes
3 large Idaho Sweet Spanish onions

Pre-heat oven to 325 degrees F. (slightly under moderate). Allow 2 hours for total cooking time. Place pork in shallow pan with room enough to put vegetables around meat. Rub with salt and coarse-grind black pepper. Place in oven while preparing vegetables which should be around 15 minutes.

Peel onions, cut in quarters lengthwise. Scrub potatoes thoroughly. Do not peel. Cut in halves lengthwise. On cut side make diamond shapes by uniformly cutting crisscross just the slightest bit with a sharp knife. Sprinkle cut side lightly with salt.

Take pork from oven. Place onion quarters and potato halves, skin side up, around pork. Sprinkle onion lightly with salt and powdered sage. Return pan to oven. After a half hour, baste vegetables with drippings from meat. Repeat twice. Pork, whole meal should be fork-tender and a meat thermometer in pork should read 185 degrees F. Always serve fresh pork well-done. It should be gray with no tinge of pink.

Remove pork and vegetables to warm platter, placing potatoes cut side up. The roast pork drippings will have cooked into the potatoes and onions giving them a fine flavor. Gravy may be made with remaining drippings.

Seed Men Elect

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Seed Dealers Association elected Charles Buchanan as president at the end of a three-day convention here Tuesday. Other new officers are Dennis McKnight of Parkin, first vice president; James Hudson of Texarkana, second vice president, and Al Joyner of Little Rock, secretary-treasurer.

Khrushchev Kin to Visit JFKs

WASHINGTON (AP)—President and Mrs. Kennedy will have the daughter and son-in-law of Soviet Premier Khrushchev as luncheon guests at the White House Tuesday.

The son-in-law is Alexei Adzhubey, editor of the Soviet government paper Izvestia, who interviewed Kennedy in November. The interview was published in his paper.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Adzhubey and wife, Rada, are in Havana, planning to go to Mexico City and then to Brazil by way of Washington.

Adzhubey, he said, sent word he would like to see Salinger while in this hemisphere. A call was arranged and when Kennedy heard about it the invitation to lunch followed.

Mrs. Kennedy will be present and so will Salinger and the editor of the magazine "U.S.S.R.," Georgi Bolshakov.

"U.S.S.R." is a Soviet publication distributed in this country. It is the counterpart of "America," which this country distributes in the Soviet Union.

Texan to Join Hospital Staff

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Dr. B. Ainsworth Kuehne, now of Austin, Tex., will become assistant superintendent of the Little Rock unit of State Hospital, on Feb. 1, Supt. George W. Jackson said today.

A native Texan, Kuehne has been chief instructor in psychiatry at Austin State Hospital at Austin. He is married and has a daughter, nine.

Both Dr. Granville Jones, who had been superintendent but who was shifted to assistant superintendent when Dr. Jackson returned to Arkansas, and Dr. Hayden Donahue, who had been assistant superintendent, recently took jobs in other states.

7 Secret Army Bombs Exploded

PARIS (AP)—Seven bombs presumably set by the European secret army exploded in rapid succession today in widely separated parts of Paris.

Targets were Frenchmen who oppose the terrorist campaign to keep Algeria French in defiance of President Charles de Gaulle's plans for independence.

Four apartment houses were damaged, but there was no report on injuries.

All the explosives were believed caused by plastic bombs, favorite weapons of the Secret Army Organization.

Nine of the bombs shook Paris Tuesday night and Monday night. They were blamed for the bombing of the French Foreign Ministry that killed one person and injured several others.

Newsman Dies

LONDON (AP)—Sir Roderick Jones, for 26 years executive head of Reuters news agency, died at his London home today after a long illness due to a kidney complaint. He was 84.

As Easy As Cheese Pie

Everyone loves cheesecake—but not all cooks have the time to make it. For the busy homemaker, No-Bake Cheese Pie is a boon. Its blessing is twofold: as the name implies, there's no baking involved. And to further add to its charm, the cheesecake-like filling reposes in a mellow crumb shell.

Thanks to unflavored gelatine, there's no risk involved. Because of the presence of this reliable product, each time you make the pie it comes to the table equally fluffy. The dissolved unflavored gelatine combines with beaten cream cheese and whipped cream—simply chills until firm. It's as easy as pie!

No-Bake Cheese Pie

1 envelope unflavored gelatine 2 packages (8 ounces each) cream cheese
1/2 cup sugar 1 teaspoon lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon salt 1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup milk 1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Mix together gelatine, sugar and salt in saucepan. Stir in milk. Place over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatine is dissolved, about 3 minutes. Remove from heat. Cool. While mixture is cooling, prepare graham cracker crumb shell according to package directions. Then beat cream cheese, lemon juice and lemon juice mixture on high speed of electric mixer. Gradually beat in gelatine mixture. Chill until mixture mounds, about 15 minutes. Fold in whipped cream. Turn into crumb shell. Chill until firm. If desired, garnish with graham cracker crumbs. Yield: One 9-inch pie.

Religion, Age in Field of Science

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Surprise findings that conflict with popular conceptions about aging and religion and adoption and motherhood figure in the most recent news.

Aging and Religion

There is a popular impression that the older persons grow the more religious they become.

To test the validity of this belief, Dr. H. L. Orbach studied the relationship between age, religion and church activity in a cross section of 6,911 adults in the Detroit metropolitan area between the ages of 21 and 84.

His conclusions as reported in the publication Geriatrics:

"But results have shown that there is no adequate proof to substantiate the view that people become more religious as they age. Studies of the relationship between age and religion do not support this common view and suggest that older people's religious behavior is determined by more direct social and cultural factors."

Fertility and Sterility

Another popular assumption is that if a childless woman adopts a baby, she vastly improves her chances of giving birth later.

To test this possibility, Drs. A.L. Banks, R. N. Rutherford and W. A. Coburn of Seattle, Wash., made follow-up studies of 31 infertile couples who were treated at a clinic and later adopted one or more babies.

They reported in the publication Fertility and Sterility that only one woman in the group subsequently gave birth to a child.

They concluded: "The fact that only one pregnancy occurred in this study agrees with the results of other investigations which indicate that the belief that normal pregnancy frequently follows adoption is false."

5 Satellite Try Proves a Big Flop

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Rocket failure today ruined an attempt to boost five satellites into orbit simultaneously to probe a number of space mysteries.

The space quintuplets hurtled into the sky at 4:30 a.m. cradled snugly in the nose of an 80-foot Thor-Able-Star rocket. The first stage of the 55-ton rocket performed normally and observers at the Cape saw the second stage ignite.

But 20 minutes after launch the Defense Department announced it the upper stage failed to build up sufficient thrust after ignition and the entire rocket assembly plunged in the Atlantic Ocean far downrange.

The failure wrecked the United States' most ambitious multiple payload experiment to date. Attempts have been made previously to send three satellites aloft with one booster, but never as many as five.

The five satellites were to have been sprayed into orbit by spring devices much like the pellets from a shotgun charge. Because of this, project officials nicknamed the project "Buckshot."

This was to have been the first of three major U.S. space efforts scheduled this week. On Friday, an Atlas-Agena rocket is slated to hurl a Ranger 3 payload to the moon to take closeup television pictures and land an instrument package on the lunar surface.

The attempt to orbit astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. is set for Saturday.

Doomed by today's failure were: SR-7 for Solar Radiation 4) to study X-ray radiation from the sun and possibly learn how storms raging across the sun's face affect space near earth.

Injun II to examine the relationship between the outer Van Allen radiation belt and auroral phenomena such as "northern lights."

Lofit II (for Low Frequency Trans-Ionospheric) to study radio wave propagation in the ionosphere in an experiment aimed at devising better earth and space radio communications systems.

Secor (for Sequential Collation of Range) to test techniques for future satellites which will map the earth.

Surcal (for Space Surveillance System Calibration) to study means of improving the Navy's satellite detection system stretching across the Southern United States.

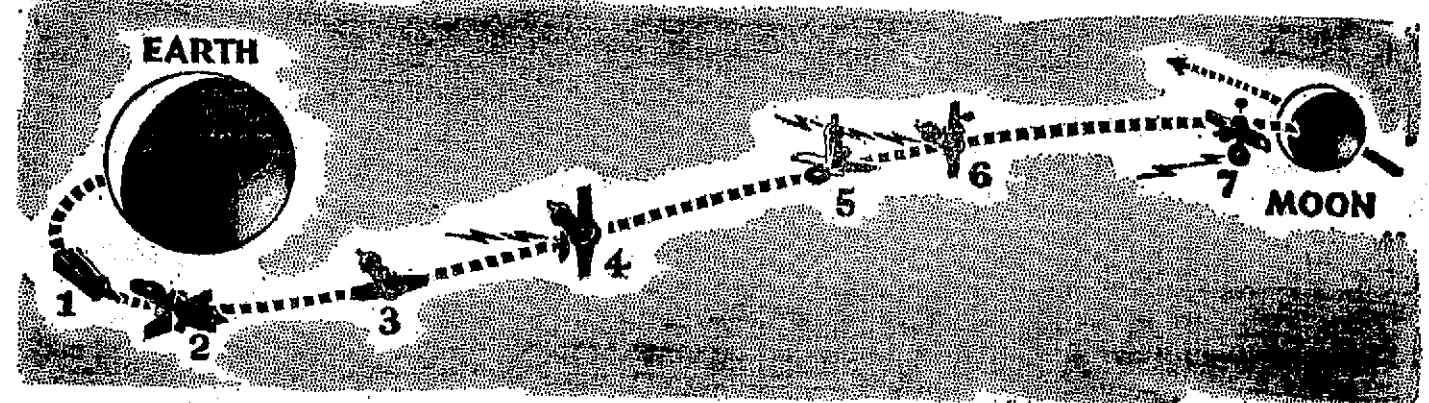

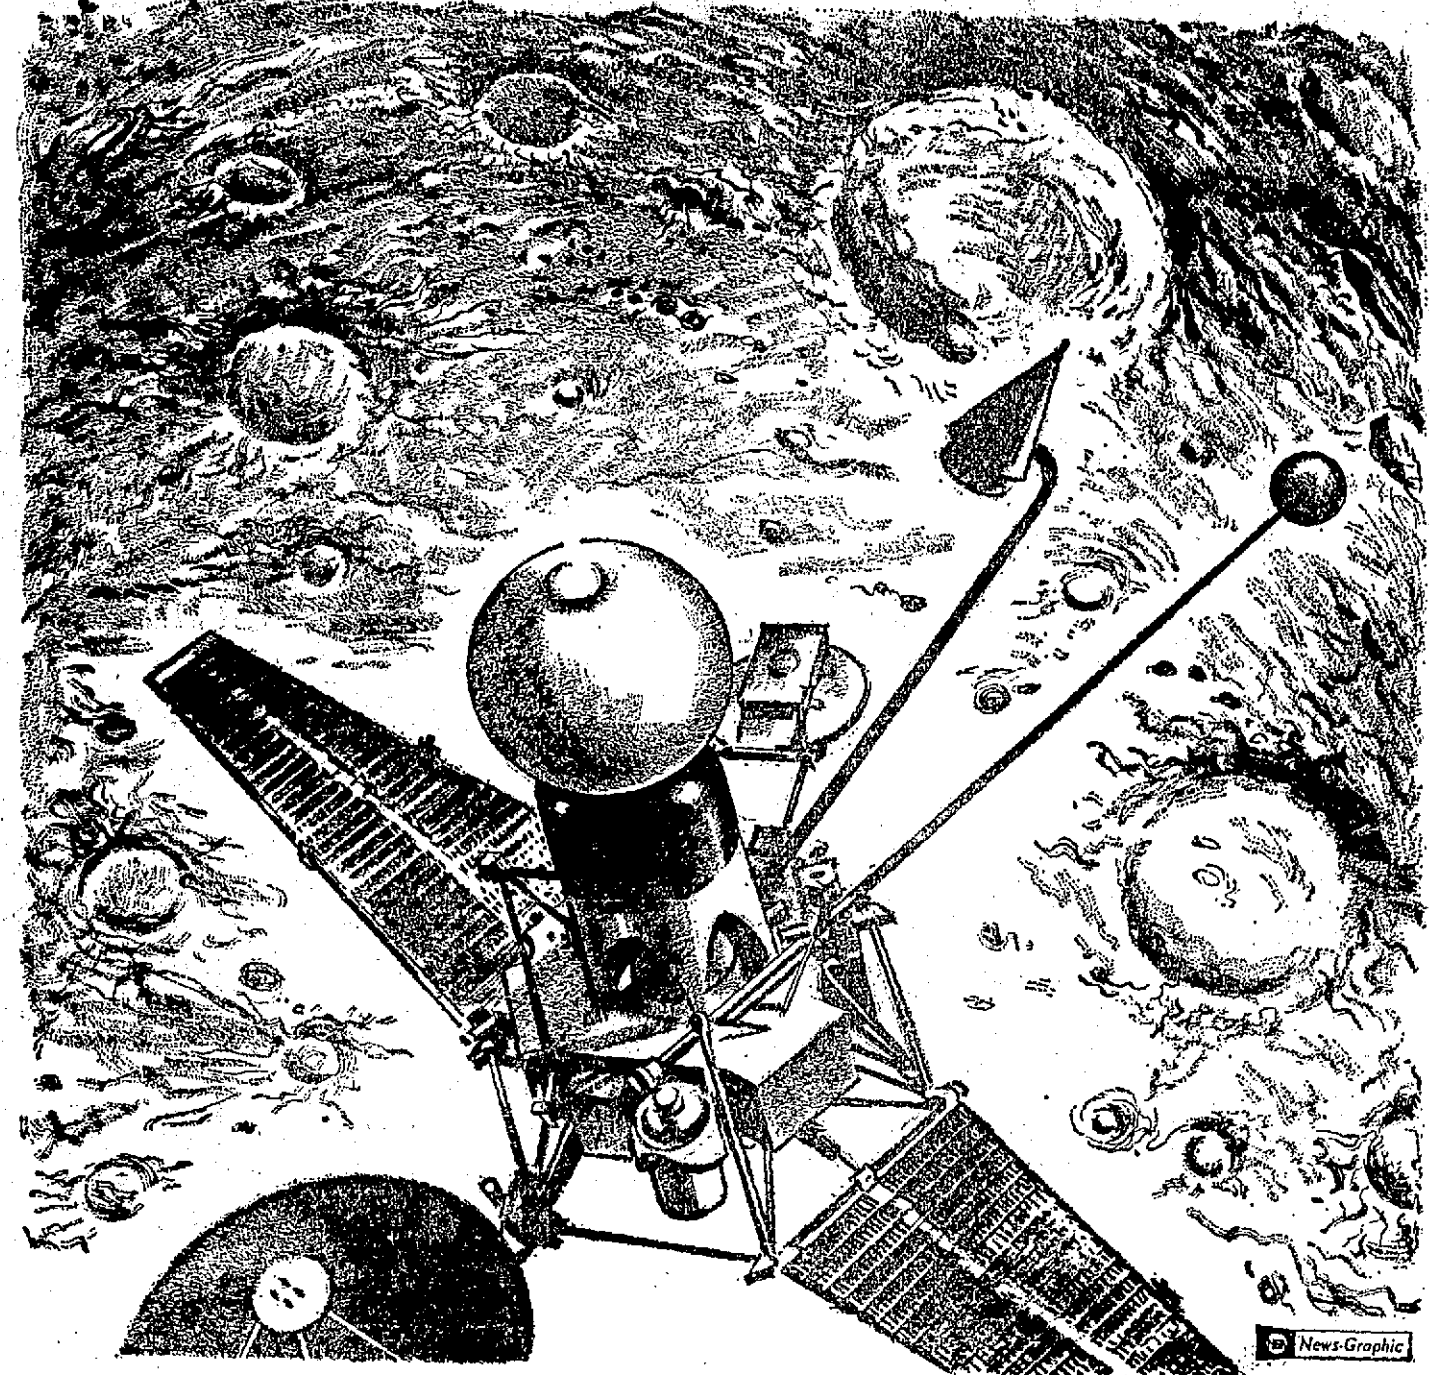

Furniture Too

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mickey Cohen, minus his freedom, is minus his furniture, too.

Internal Revenue agents confiscated it from a warehouse and auctioned it Monday to help pay a $400,000 debt the government says Cohen owes for back income taxes. The sale raised $2,000.

The longtime West Coast gambling figure is in jail awaiting results of another appeal of his conviction for income tax evasion.

BIG TARGET IN THE SKY

ASSAULT ON THE MOON—Ranger 3, bearing instruments designed to achieve this nation's first physical contact and first close look at the moon, is shown above against the background of the crater-marked surface. Ranger 3 is a 727-pound spacecraft bearing a television camera and a smaller, 98½-pound capsule which will separate from it just before hitting the moon. Sketch at bottom shows a series of maneuvers the Ranger will perform, the most complicated any U.S. spacecraft has yet undertaken. Launched atop a 10-story Atlas-Agena rocket, Ranger coasts into a "parking orbit." At the right moment, the Agena fires to boost it to a speed of 24,500 m.p.h. on its way to the moon (1). Solar coils and antenna unfold (2). Special sensing devices "lock on" (3) to the sun to stabilize the vehicle; it is also positioned (4) in relation to the earth. Halfway to the moon (5), on command from earth, it fires a rocket to place itself on a collision course with the moon and (6) locks on again with the sun and earth. When within 5,000 miles of the moon (7), it performs a final positioning maneuver and aims its TV camera at the moon: At 2,400 miles out, the camera begins transmitting 13 pictures a second back to earth. At about 70,000 feet above the moon; the small capsule is ejected and slowed by retrorockets. Protected by a balsawood covering, the capsule ball hits the moon at 100 m.p.h.; the main body of the Ranger is destroyed on impact. The capsule carries batteries for 30 days' work and starts beaming back information about radioactivity in the moon's crust, moonquakes and meteorite impacts and other details of the lunar surface. Time for trip: 66 hours.

Astronaut Practices Routine

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Relaxed and with a fresh crewcut, astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. today followed his "D-minus 3" routine with all signs pointing to an attempt to orbit him around the earth on Saturday.

The schedule three days before flight usually calls for rest, relaxation, sun and exercise, sleep and reading and a few technical meetings. There is also a change in diet to begin eating foods creating little body waste.

Within about 24 hours, experts had located and repaired a leak in the oxygen flow system in Glenn's capsule, putting in a new valve and ducting. This fault had forced a postponement in his flight, once set for today.

Glenn personally checked out the life-supporting systems in the capsule. Tuesday, his back-up pilot, M. Scott Carpenter, flew a pretended three-orbit, 4½-hour mission in space.

Everything now looks satisfactory, officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration indicated, with preparations going forward for a launching attempt "no earlier than Saturday."

Weather or other unexpected problems could force more delay. While Carpenter was "flying" the spacecraft, Glenn scooted out of seclusion at the space base to Cocoa Beach for a $1.50 haircut—reading a magazine rather than engage in small talk with his barber.

He also reviewed results of a thorough physical examination with Dr. William K. Douglas, the astronauts' personal physician. Physically, Glenn is set to go, said the doctor. Glenn, a bug on exercise for fitness, went jogging later in the afternoon.

New Bond Salesman Will Call

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AT)—There's a new bond salesman on the job today. But you won't find him at your bank or your brokers. There won't be any bond-buying rallies on the street corners or at your luncheon club meetings.

This latest comer to the vast family of bonds is a United Nations issue. And the new salesman is Acting Secretary-General U Thant.

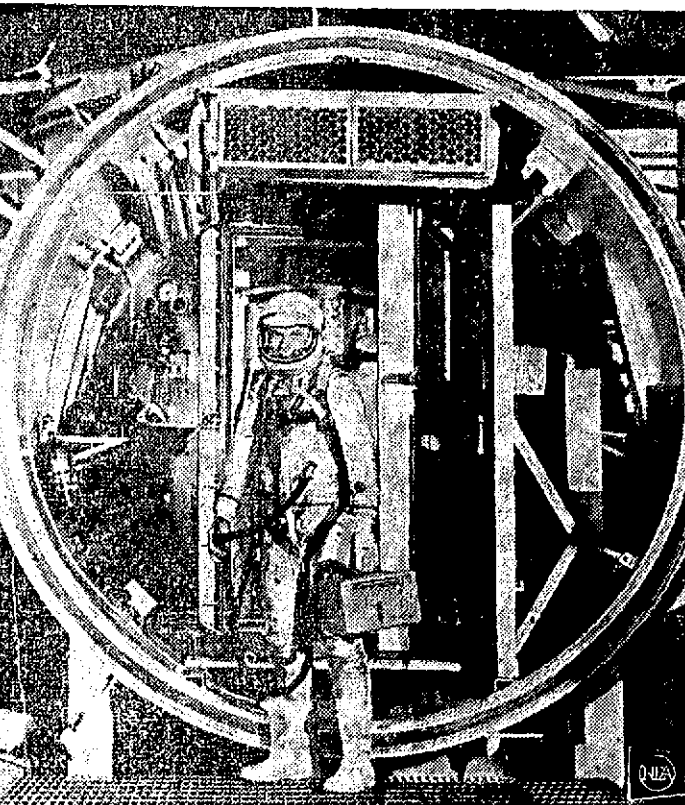

He is trying to peddle bonds to governments and a few nonprofit institutions to get the United Nations out of a bad financial bind. President Kennedy wants the United States to buy up to half of the $200-million issue. This has blown up a storm both in and out of Congress.

Some question where the United Nations will get the money to repay it. Even more object to the international politics involved in Thant's needing to peddle the bonds in the first place. Proponents say the United States must bolster the United Nations in its time of need—even if that need grows out of the failure of some other nations to pay their assessments.

The bonds have been printed ready for sale. They run for 25 years and pay 2 per cent interest. The individual bond as printed doesn't contain the specific amount. Instead there is a blank space for inscribing the amount of purchase, presumably to be filled in when the international agency finds out who will take how much.

Only governments, and the few designated nonprofit institutions such as the Ford Foundation, can buy them. They can't be resold to private individuals, banks or brokerage houses—only to other governments and eligible institutions.

President Kennedy in his budget message asked Congress for legislation "to authorize the United States to purchase in 1962 up to $100 million of the United Nations

OFF TO THE 'OFFICE'—Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. prepares to enter the Project Mercury high altitude simulator for a dry run into space in preparation for America's first manned orbital flight. The simulator holds the Mercury capsule in its main section and can duplicate space conditions. Inside, out from the world except for an umbilical cord carrying oxygen line and intercom, Glenn tests his equipment and conditions himself to thinking and working in the cramped quarters. The black box he is carrying cools his pressure suit when he's not in the capsule.

Wins Confidence

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Premier Constantine Caramanlis' vote of confidence in Parliament early today against charges that it used strong-arm tactics in last fall's national election.

bonds which will be issued to meet the financial emergency facing the United Nations."

That emergency arose when the Soviet Union, among others, refused to pay its assessment for underwriting the cost of the U.N. activities in the Congo which run counter to its policies there. Other nations have refused to pay assessments for other U.N. activities, such as in the Gaza Strip, one of the sore points between Israeli and the Arab nations.

Dog Ruins Truck

LONDON (AP)—A man whose truck came off second best in a collision with a dog was awarded 33 pounds 15 shillings—$96.50—damages from the animal's owner Monday.

Hyman Gomborg said the 200-pound St. Bernard dashed out of a store and in front of his truck.

Folsom Announces

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—James E. Folsom has formally announced what a lot of observers predicted all along—that he'll seek an unprecedented third term as governor.

Folsom, 53, was governor in 1947-51 and 1955-59.
